The Vine Trail has been planted with over three hundred new trees which will eventually provide shade to trail users. The Vine Trail celebrates the culture, history and beauty of the Napa Valley through our interpretive signs. The iconic Vine Trail shelters provide a place to stop with bike racks and bike work stations, maps and other information. Mileage markers along the trail show where you are. Distances are measured from the Vallejo Ferry Terminal.

The Soscol Gap - connecting from Third and Soscol to Vallejo Street back onto the Vine Trail: From Third Street, if you are riding a bike you can either walk your bike or ride on the Class II bike lanes along Soscol Avenue to McKinstry Street and then rejoin the Vine Trail at Vallejo Street. Alternatively, you can walk to the Northwest corner of First Street and Soscol and take the pathway down to Oxbow Commons. From there you will be able to head north on McKinstry to Vallejo Street.

When you reach the end of the Commuter Path, you will take a right onto the Class II bike lane on Redwood Road. At the light, you will cross Trancas Street and will pick up the Vine Trail at the north end of the Park & Ride lot.
